City of Windhoek Announces Additional International Artists for the 2025 Windhoek Jazz Festival

Following the successful official launch of the 2025 Windhoek Jazz Festival, the City of Windhoek is delighted to announce the addition of four acclaimed international artists to this year's festival lineup.

Joining the legendary Siphon "Hotstix" Mabuse from South Africa, the international stage will also feature:

- Moreira Chonguiça – Mozambique's renowned saxophonist and composer known for his unique fusion of African rhythms and contemporary jazz.
- Kelly Khumalo – South Africa's celebrated singer and performer whose powerful voice and commanding presence have made her one of the most influential artists in contemporary African music.
- Zama Jobe – One of South Africa's most soulful jazz vocalists celebrated for her timeless hits and captivating performances.
- Sereetsi & The Natives – Botswana's multitalented artist whose modern interpretation of folk-jazz has earned him regional and international recognition.
- Henry Philemon – South African vocalist and songwriter admired for his dynamic stage presence and rich Afro-jazz sound.

These exceptional artists will perform alongside Namibia's top local talents, including Bongani Soul, Sigera Jazz Jazz, Swingers Jazz Band, Ugly Creatures, Esme Songbird, Botselo and Harmonic Grooves.

Speaking at the official launch, His Worship, the Mayor of the City of Windhoek, highlighted the significance of the Windhoek Jazz Festival as more than just a musical event:

"The Windhoek Jazz Festival has grown into a platform that celebrates creativity, diversity, and unity through the universal language of music. It plays a vital role in positioning Windhoek as a vibrant cultural hub that promotes arts, tourism, and investment."

This year's festival will take place at the Hage Geingob Stadium, promising an unforgettable evening.
